Sarcomes are very aggressive malignant tumors. Since they are very rare, there is no money to fund research. Here HDKT takes the initiative. HDKT collaborates with the Radboud Oncology Fund.

For all the money collected by HDKT, in cooperation with the Radboud Oncology Fund, expenditures are sought that contribute to:

1. Support of research research to drug discovery and treatment leads to greater chances of cure.

2. Increasing the level of knowledge

there needs to be more knowledge among doctors and specialists.

3. Information about sarcomes it is essential that sarcomes are detected on time. A sarcoma is an aggressive form of cancer that is usually only detected when they are well visible or if they cause discomfort.

4. Establishment of a network of sarcome care

FUNDED RESEARCH

HDKT has already realized two studies. In December 2014 HDKT has been able to hand over € 50,000,-, for research to sarcomas at Radboud University Nijmegen Medical Centre. The money is spent through the Radboud Oncology Fund on research to rare bone sarcomas.

HDKT is socially engaged and from this involvement HDKT is committed to support medical research into sarcoma. The aim is to donate one million euros to this goals.

All the donated 'ten dollar bills' will go to the charity, the costs incurred by HDKT are covered by our partners. From donations no overhead is paid.
